17 But in the main, I feel like a brown bag of miscellany propped against a wall. Against a wall in company with other bags, white, red and yellow. Pour out the contents, and there is discovered a jumble of small things priceless and worthless. A first-water diamond, an empty spool, bits of broken glass, lengths of string, a key to a door long ...

And you don't know how it feels
You don't know how it feels
To be me
My old man was born to rock
He's still tryin' to beat the clock
Think of me
what you will
I've got a little space to fill
So let's get to the point
Let's roll another joint
And let's head on down the road
There's somewhere I got to go
And you don't know how it feels
