After many years of participation in prestigious international projects with the highly successful RS range, in 2012 Tecno introduced a logical step forward in the form of theinnovative RS2 range. Waiting rooms are rapidly turning into temporary work places and seating needs to permit full functionality from the many electronic devices that the travelling public now carry.

RS2 - Tecno Spa

Making furnishings for public places means tying together three elements: the concrete, factual and useful design, with the location and its identity and the variable public who liaises with the project and the location. Tecno produces seating systems for stations, airport, waiting rooms, conferences and museums.
